SAC Enrollment Hits 2300 Mark

With the men students outnumbering the women three to one, Santa Ana College's enrollment rockets to an all time high with a grand total of approximately 2300 as of Sept. 12.

This figure takes in day classes as well as extended day and does not include adult education classes.

Russell Heads 1959 Del Ano

Dolores Russell, SAC sophomore, has been chosen to head the 1959 edition of the SAC yearbook Del Ano.

Miss Russell has worked on the yearbook for the past two years and is also a member of the women's service club, Las Doncellas.

Bob Matthews has been chosen as right hand man to fulfill the position of associate editor. He is active on the campus in journalism and a member of the Knights, a men's honorary service club limited to twelve members.

Heading the sports section will be freshman Don Andersen who also fills the post of sports editor of El Don. Don was one of the outstanding young journalists of "This semester's census shows an increase of just over the 400 mark," announced SAC's new Dean of Admissions, George K. Herron. Herron joined the Don staff from Santa Ana High School where he was registrar.

On the first day of school, Sept. 8, the freshmen numbered 557 while the frosh women numbered near 200.

In the sophomore class the males were leading the women in count 266 to just short of 100 for the females.

Last semester the enrollment was 1985 with a 35 per cent jump over the previous semester. This semester's enrollment is averaging well over the 15 per cent mark from last year's census.

Extended day classes, which are separate from adult education boast of a new record enrollment of 880 students with once again the men dominating by 650 to 235 women. These statistics were taken from the Sept. 8 count.

The Long Beach College off-campus center is also located on Santa Ana's campus in building U. These courses are offered to out of state teachers wishing to receive their credentials for California.

Along with the increasing population of under grads the faculty also had to increase. Last year there were 65 members on SAC's faculty to this semester's 83.

In the past six years Santa Ana College has quadrupled in student enrollment and tripled the faculty.

SCOOP

Late election returns show Dale Nix, Don Hall, Gail Williams and Nancy Stebbins cheerleaders, with Della Kahn and Janice Bate backing up head songleader Kay Carstensen.

Campus Traffic Fines Changed

New traffic violation fines have been established by the student parking commission, according to Ralph Gregory, Commissioner of Special Student Activities.

Violations will be more costly with a new charge of exceeding the 15 m.p.h. speed limit added to the parking misdemeanors. Speeding offenders will be charged $3.00.

Parking in the paraplegic stalls will cost $2.00 and other parking violations are priced at $1.00. The latter include parking in faculty spaces, on lawns, sidewalks or where no parking is specifically designated.

Parking without a Don sticker will cost the violator fifty cents. Fines are to be paid within three days after receipt of a ticket to the Associated Students Business Manager.

Adult Education Classes Begin

Registration for adult education classes at Santa Ana College began this week.

Registration is being conducted in the Adult Education office at the SAC Administration building. Fees are $3 for one subject and $2 for each additional subject for students above 21 years of age, with no fee for those under 21.

Miss Isabelle Rellstab, of the Women's Physical Education Department today stated that "Sports Night" will be a non-date affair. She said that previous Sports Nights have been very successful and that a large turnout is anticipated.

There will be an admission charge of twenty-five cents for holders of student body cards and a charge of thirty-five cents for students who have not purchased their cards.

Sports Night is co-sponsored by the W.A.A. and A.M.S.

After the pledge to the flag and national anthem, Dr. John Tuft of the faculty will give the invocation.

Dr. Henley will be guest of the faculty at a buffet luncheon in the Faculty Study of the new Nealey Library.

EDITORIAL

Most business-minded young people are vitally interested in what is called "a good investment." They are anxious to get the most for their money in any transaction, and demand good quality in return for their hard-earned money.

Upon enrolling in Santa Ana College, an overwhelming majority of students made their first investment towards their college careers in the form of an Associated Student Body Card. This came perhaps even before the purchase of their textbooks and other supplies.

As their first and probably best purchase, the A. S. B. cards give them more than even they realize.

Some of the more obvious advantages include free admission to sports and many social events throughout the school year. To other events a discount is granted for student body cards towards the admission fee. The amount saved on these occasions alone totals more than the price of the ticket.

In addition, the A. S. B. card holder receives his copy of Del Ano, the yearbook which is distributed each spring, and is valued at $6.00. El Don, campus newspaper, is also partly financed through A. S. B. funds and is made available to all students on campus.

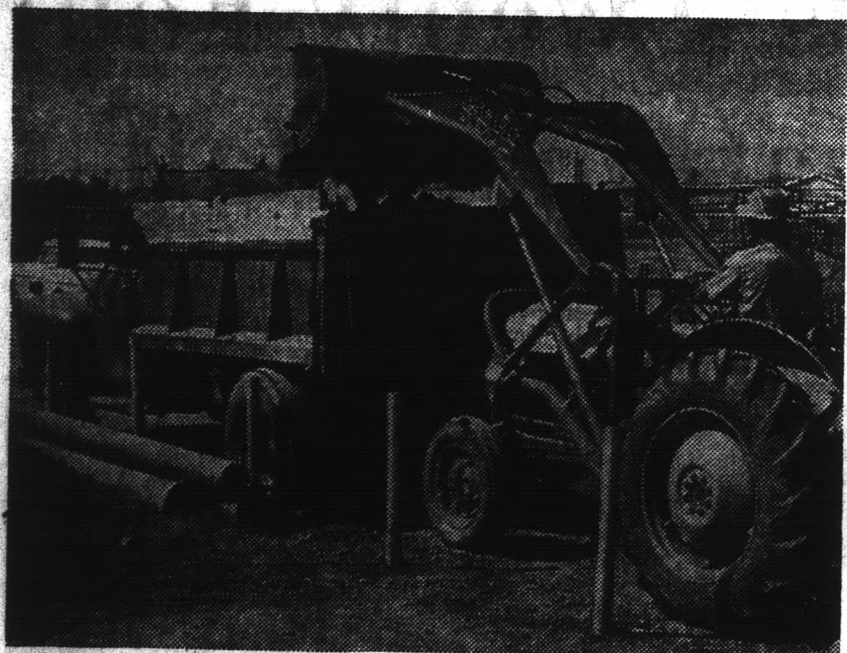

Another phase of this particular "good investment" is an agreement that has been made with Bowen Cleaners to allow student body card holders a discount of ten percent on cleaning and laundry taken to their establishment. Other such discounts with local merchants are under negotiation.

An insurance policy of $2000 is also part of the bargain on injuries incurred on campus. Each student body card holder is insured for that amount.

To round out the bargains gained on this good investment is double value for married students on campus. A. S. B. cards of married students are marked "spouse" so that the couple may attend college functions together.

The total estimated savings on college functions and other assets from this initial investment is over $30. May your other investments be as profitable!

M.A.H.

CAMPUS GROWING PAINS — Construction never ceases at Santa Ana as the new swimming pool and other projects are continually being worked on. Class disrupting noises are heard but the project is soon to be finished.

Olympic Pool One Of New Additions

Under the very eyes of Santa Ana College students, a great transformation is taking place, changing the old campus into a new and modern place of learning.

The "hole in the ground" near the gymnasium is to be a 100' x 75' swimming pool designed after Olympic racing pools. The pool is actually a little larger than the standard Olympic pool.

At the far end of the new pool, the depth goes to 12' for diving and water polo plus other added water sports. In the shallow end will be instructive and recreational swimming. Students are invited to "drop in" any time.

Since the pool is to be used by Santa Ana College students during school time and by the public during the summer, the college and the city split the cost. The City of Santa Ana is paying for the construction cost and the college will cover all other costs such as dressing rooms, the site for the pool, fencing, cost of operation, and supervision.

Also vying for a spot in Santa Ana's new "makeup job" are three new buildings which will house the technical center of the college. The building schedule calls for completion by the end of the year.

The completion of these buildings means that the large shop buildings will be taken over by metal trades and machine shop. Even on rainy days students taking the aforementioned courses will be able to work whereas before, they had no facilities to work inside.

COOL AND COMFORTABLE — New Neally library provides added facilities and room for study and research as well as the comfortable temperature provided by the air conditioning. There is room to browse through the periodical section and plenty of space to breeze through homework. — Photo by Schlice

Neally Library Brings Space With Cool Comfort

Old and new students alike are finding Santa Ana College's new Neally Library a pleasant haven from the September heat wave as well as the hustle and bustle of construction outside.

The big air-conditioned library, in use since June, 1958, offers many advantages over the former barracks building which served as library since the college moved to its present site ten years ago.

In addition to its new and beautiful structure designed by Harold Gimeno of Tustin, the new building easily houses the 25,000 volumes in the library's open stack book collection. The spacious shelves are quite a change from the stepladders and chairs which held the overflow of books in the old library.

Record Collection

For students who would rather just sit and listen, a non-musical record collection may be found with readings in several foreign languages as well as many literary readings. Facilities for listening to the 350 record assortment include three tables with record players and earphones for up to eleven listeners.

Three different browsing areas are also attractions for students who use the library for what they may choose from an array of current periodicals, a career corner, and the unique Orange County Authors Corner.

Orange County Authors

In the latter may be found writings of authors who reside in Orange County as well as other information that is significant on local history.

Typewriting facilities are also available to students, and conference rooms are open to accommodate both large and small groups. The new faculty lounge is also a part of this new addition to campus.

Library Staff

Of the staff that keeps the library running smoothly, Mrs. Margaret Butler is acting librarian, Mrs. Ina Mae Bergseter as evening librarian, and Mr. Charles Leopold represents the Long Beach State library.

Miss Ruth Bradley, Head Librarian, is on a leave of absence for the first semester, and is now beachcombing in Hawaii. It was largely due to the efforts of Miss Bradley that the move from the old building was completed and the new building organized. She will return to her duties in February, 1959.

Honors Professor

The new library bears the name of the late Edward M. Neally, former professor of philosophy who helped build the academic reputation the college holds. It is fitting that Professor Neally be honored in this way because of his interests in the library.

During the duration of his position as professor of philosophy and psychology from 1917 until his retirement in 1938, he supplemented his classroom lectures with book reviews and discussion groups at his Tustin home, where his extensive library was available for student study.

CRAMPED QUARTERS — This is an example of the crowded bookshelves and various improvised means to catch the overflow of books in the old library. See page 4 for a comparison picture.

Football Opener Nears; Dons Meet El Toro Today

Precise timing and a general all-around sharpening of plays will be the order of the day this afternoon when the Don footballers face the El Toro Marines in a final scrimmage prior to the long-awaited opening of the 1958 football season.

El Don will host the Marines in 3:00 p.m. scrimmage today and then next week continue final drills in preparation for the season's opener next Saturday night at Taft. Already, in pre-season scrimmages the Dons have looked sharp against Cerritos and Whittier and have been picked by many to cop the Eastern Conference Championship.

Coach Dick Hill, beginning his second year as head coach, has 12 lettermen among the present squad of about 60 fighting for positions on the potent Don club.

Two Returnees Pace 1958 Don Harrier Squad

Cross-country coach John Ward today released the 1958 schedule and announced that lettermen Charley Clark and Gary Rees are both returning to action and are expected to pace the Don harriers. A number of outstanding new runners have checked in and should bolster the depth of the Don squad.

Among new distance runners are Bill "Max" Chaney and Bill Hudson of El Cajon High; Ray Kideout, Tustin High; Don Braden and Dave Kaech, Santa Ana High; Darrell Manderscheid, Garden Grove High; and Jerry Hillard from Newport Harbor.

Braden was a member of the 1957 Santa Ana High team that won the Sunset League championship while Chaney and Hudson were key members of an outstanding team at El Cajon.

Don runners now face the task of getting into shape quick with the first meet less than a week away. El Don opens the season meeting San Bernardino, Orange Coast, and Fullerton next Friday at Peters Canyon, near Irvine Lake.

Among the 12 are All-American fullback Bob Gaiters and newly elected Co-captain Jack Trumbo, who guided the club to an 8-1-1 record last year. Also back are linemen Dave Okura, Stan Perumean, Vince Myers, Art Johnson, Don Noble, Pete Altamirino and backs Loy Coon, Bob Walters and Nat Glover.

Among a number of outstanding high school graduates expected to see lots of action are quarterback Bill Mott of Santa Ana High, halfback Ron Johnson of Garden Grove High and a group of 10 former Downeyites.

Also on the scene is Pervis Atkins, Eastern Conference 100 and 220-yard dash champion, who sat out last year, but is ready and rarin' to go this season. Atkins was elected Co-captain last week by his teammates and is expected to see lots of action at halfback.

Besides a number of new hopefuls Coach Hill also has a number of new coaching aids. Coaches Cliff Rothrock, Bill Smith, and Don Vaughn are new to the Santa Ana system while coaches Stan Hayden and Charlie Hess return. Rothrock is the only full time new assistant, spending time on campus as a counselor and orientation instructor.

After the Don opener next Saturday at Taft they face the Long Beach City College Vikings in Long Beach before opening the Eastern Conference campaign against Citrus in the Santa Ana Bowl on Oct. 10. Other home games on the Don slate for the season include San Bernardino on Oct. 23; Nov. 7 Chaffey and Nov. 23 the Orange Coast College Pirates.

Big Time Soccer Program Planned; Ten Games Set

Soccer goes big time at Santa Ana College this fall, with a team comprised mostly of foreign students hooking up with a number of major four-year schools in a newly organized league.

Plans call for the Dons to meet teams from UCLA, Redlands, Cal Tech, Pomona, and California at Riverside.

The team, under the direction of player-coach Ertuvan Kanatsiz like last year, is made up mostly of players from Turkey, Persia, and Panama.

Following last year's successful debut of the sport on the SAC campus, it has been adopted as an official college sport with new team uniforms and equipment being furnished by the college. George Farrier, who also coaches wrestling, has been named team adviser.

Kanatsiz announced in releasing the schedule that "our main purpose is to have some American boys on our team. As a matter of fact, all the other teams in our league have at least three or four American players."

Interested candidates are invited to attend practice from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

Spotlight on Sports

By Don Andersen

For the first time in some 40 years, college football has changed its way of scoring inserting the addition of a new extra point rule.

Under the new rule, the conversion will be worth two points if it's scored from a scrimmage play and worth the traditional one if scored by kicking. The distance has been moved from the standard two yards to three yards.

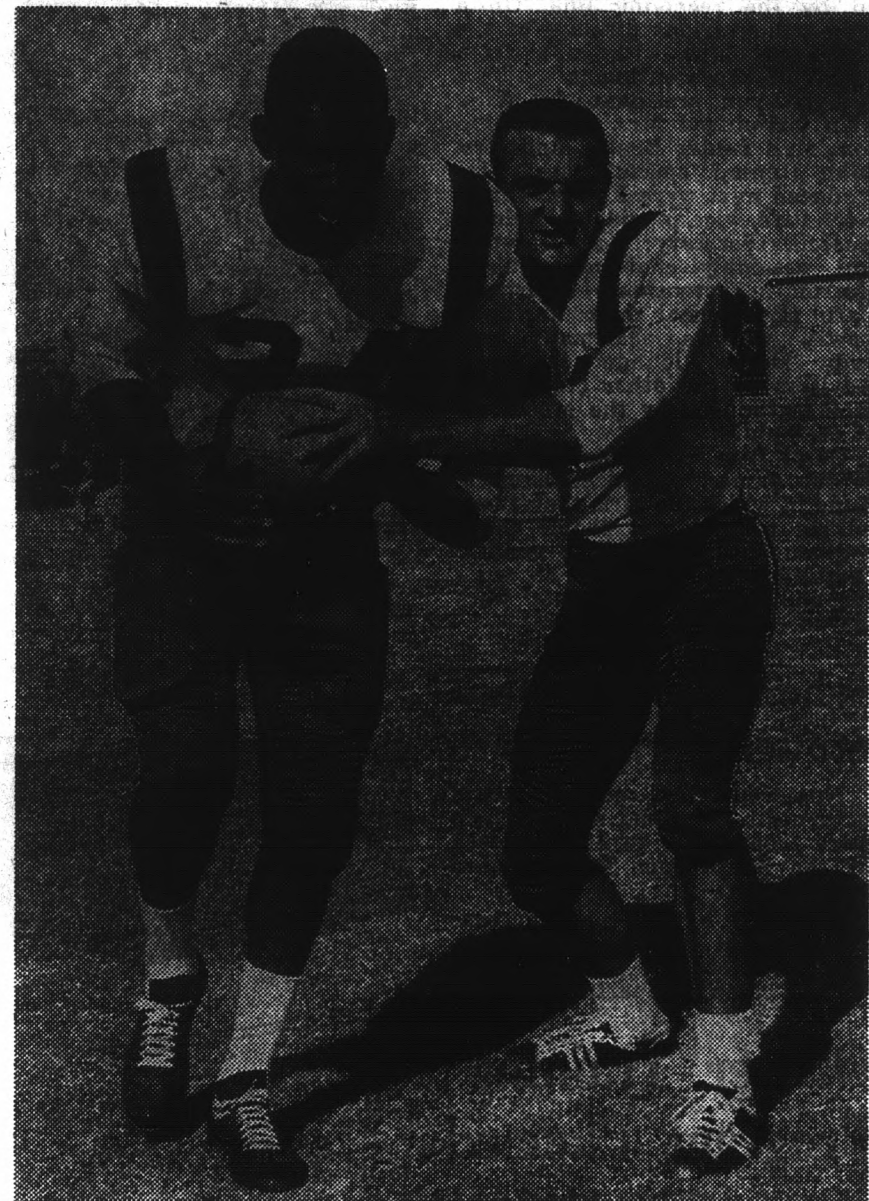

At a recent speaking engagement at a local service club meeting, Coach Dick Hill had the question put to him: "What are your plans concerning extra points under the new rules?"

"The first team to score, whether it be us or the opposition will have the decision," said Hill. "If we score first, we'll go for the two. Percentage-wise we'll probably run about two-thirds of the time. In college football you don't have the guy that can step up and automatically give you a good kick every time, so you have to adapt yourself to the situation and type of material you have."

Coach Hill has turned into quite a popular man on the speaking circuit, having spoken before a number of clubs within the past two weeks. We were fortunate enough to accompany Coach Hill and Sky Dunlap to a Kiwanis meeting earlier this week and were sincerely impressed with the straight - from - the - shoulder attitude Hill displayed in this talk.

Ertuvan Kanatsiz, player-coach of the SAC soccer club announced after the soccer story on this page had already been completed, that a practice game with Hollandia for sometime next week has been arranged. Exact date has not been set.

Publicity is one thing that makes a college grow both in size and in the favorable eyes of the public. And again this year the Don footballers will bring loads of publicity to SAC. One of the media of advertising will come from KWIZ, the Santa Ana radio station. Gus Grebe, sports director, has announced that a number of Don games are included on the agenda for the coming season. First game—direct from Long Beach Memorial Stadium—will be the Dons against the Long Beach City College Vikings. Present plans call for Grebe to handle play-by-play with myself doing some halftime interviews and commentary.

DON LEADERS.— Jack Trumbo (right) and Pervis Atkins have been elected by their teammates as co-captains for the coming football season. Trumbo, smooth-moving quarterback, was at the helm of the Dons last season while Atkins sat out a year of ineligibility.

Trumbo, Atkins Named 1958 Don Co-captains

Backfield stars Jack Trumbo and Pervis Atkins have been elected co-captains of the 1958 version of the Santa Ana College football Dons, Coach Dick Hill announced this week.

Trumbo begins his second season as the number one Don quarterback after coming to SAC last fall with Hill when the Downey coach was appointed head coach.

Trumbo quarterbacked the Downey High school Vikings to the 1956 CIF co-championship when his ball club and Anaheim tied 13-13 in the championship game before 41,000 fans in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Jack is best known for his mystifying ball handling and sharp defense work. He also is a more than adequate passer, completing 11 of 24 passes for 207 yards last year.

Atkins, a 195-pound halfback, is beginning his first year as a football player at SAC after serving as a manager last year when he was ineligible to play. Atkins is the champion all-around track man in the Eastern Conference, having won the 100 and 200 yd. dashes and scored heavily in the pole vault, javelin, shot put and relay teams. His fastest official time in the 100 is 9.8 seconds.

Pervis went to high school at Oakland Tech. He will be one of the fastest big men to carry the ball in the long star-studded history of the Dons.

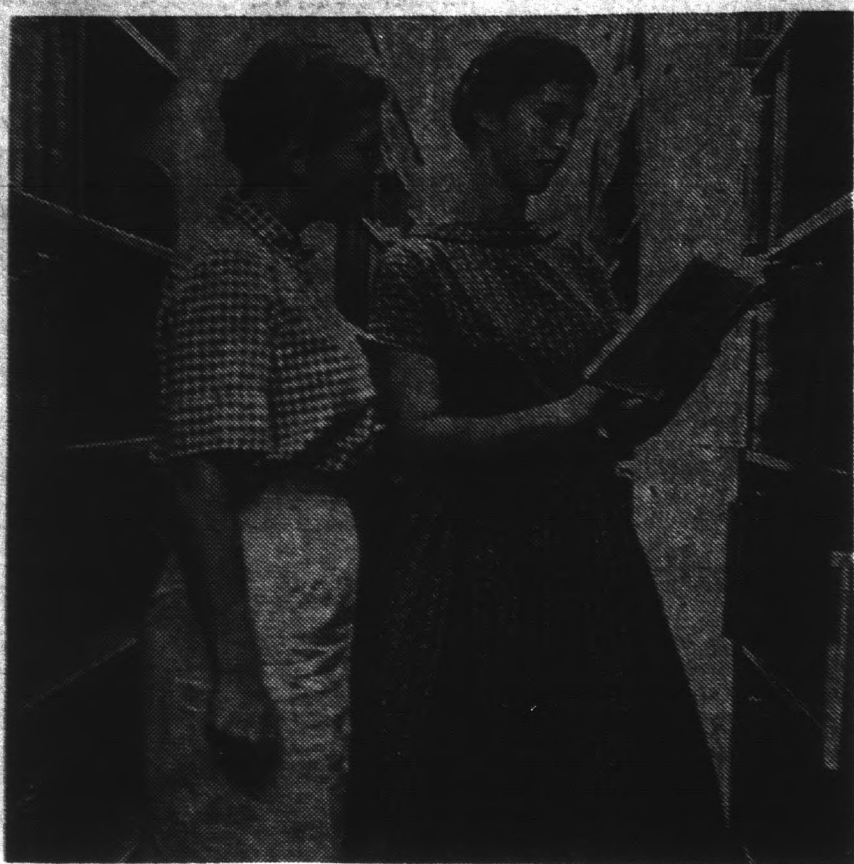

Herron Elected WAA President

Julene Herron, a freshman formerly of Santa Ana High School, has been elected president of SAC's Women's Athletic Association and along with her cabinet will head girls sports activities for the season.

Assisting Miss Herron will be vice-president, Michaelyn Musfelt; secretary, Charlotte Stoughton; historian, Gail Williams; and basketball manager, Donna Pitts.

Basketball is the first sport on the women's agenda and a seven game schedule including Compton, Chaffey, Long Beach, Fullerton, Mt. SAC, Orange Coast, and a combined schools sportsday has been planned. Details and dates will be published next Friday in El Don.

Appointed Commissioners to be Aided By Interested Student Committees

Outside of the students elected associated student body officers the ASB president, Bud Miller has chosen four commissioners to assist the board in specialized fields not covered by elected offices. These four commissioners hold voting power on the board and are held responsible for their designated jobs.

These jobs consist of Assembly, Publicity, Special Activity, and Social Commissioners.

Holding down the job of Assembly Commissioner is Mary Sullivan who has been active in dramatics and the arts for two semesters. Assisting Sullivan will be Jerry Nims, newcomer to the campus, to help in the music field. Nims plays piano and is now trying to organize a small combo. Many others have signed up to help out.

Publicity Commissioner is held by Earle Truax who has been active in student body activities for two semesters as Freshman class president. AMS president and proved to be a strong candidate for the presidential elections last semester. Assisting Earle will be Bill Sprague who is an artist in his own right.

Ralph Gregory, the man who controls the parking problem on campus, was appointed Commissioner of Special Student Activities. Gregory is assisted by eleven students who help give out parking tickets to delinquent drivers.

Another Commissioner is Sharon LeBonte who handles all of the social functions. She is assisted by many of the freshmen girls on campus with the decorations and organizing of social functions.

Tuesday a meeting was called for all those who would like to be of help or assist the commissioners in their jobs with turnout of 50 students.

ANNUAL STAFF PLANS JAUNT

The editorial staff of the campus yearbook "Del Ano", accompanied by Journalism Chairman Carl Venstrom, will travel to Glendale tomorrow to visit the publishing firm of "Mirro-Graphic."

Bart Laughlin, company representative, will meet the group and take students on a tour of the plant which will print the 1956 yearbook. After the tour the group will have an editorial meeting with Laughlin on the yearbook's first deadline which is December 1955.

SAC students making Saturday's trip include Editor Dolores Russell and Associate Editors Bob Matthews and Bob Schille. Other staff members going include Sandra Allen, Don Anderson, Carole McCall and Mike Reedy. Any student interested in working on this year's annual should contact Editor Laughlin or Advisor Venstrom at the plant.

SAC Womens' Service Clubs Greet New Freshmen Girls

Santa Ana College's women service clubs sponsored a "College Daze" party at the college Student Union last Monday evening for the new girls entering the college this fall.

Las Gitanas, Las Hidas, Las Meninas, A.W.S., W.A.A., and Las Doncellas gave the party in order that the new girls could become acquainted with each other and with some of the upper classwomen and advisors.

Entering the Student Union, the girls signed the guest book at the door and then went on to be greeted by the receiving line. On a long table various displays of the different clubs with girls from each club representing it.

Kyla Lyon, president of A.W.S., then introduced Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Lester Beales, and Mrs. John Dunlap, special guests. Introduced next were Kyla's cabinet Noel Rife, vice president; Delores Russell, secretary; Kay Carstenson, assembly chairman; Juleen Herron, recreation chairman; Carol Hyle, social chairman; Judy Lewis, welfare chairman; and Judy Moore, lounge chairman. Advisers of the other clubs were then introduced by the presidents of each club.

Carol Hyle, who was in charge of the games, organized a circle game in which the girls took turns talking to different people about a given subject. After a general "getting-to-know-everyone" was accomplished, refreshments were served.

School Board OK's Student Pay Raise

Numerous SAC students stand to benefit from the student help raise from $1.00 to $1.25 passed by the Santa Ana School Board last summer.

Affected by the pay increase are students employed by the library, cafeteria, grounds, and various campus departments.

Officer Training Program Planned

Captain Hutchison, Selection Officer for the south western United States area, will visit SAC's campus next Wednesday and Thursday between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. in the Student Union.

He will answer questions relating to military service and the college student.

SAC students who are interested in the program may initiate an application for one of the Marine officer training arrangements.

Marine officer candidates are still draft deferred throughout college and are not required to attend meetings nor take special academic subjects during the course of the school year.

GETTING ACQUAINTED — Judy Moore of the A.W.S. board, right, greets freshman women Sonja Smith, Barbara Crum and Anna Lou Brewer as they discover the Woman of the Year display at the College Daze party Monday night.
